Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

I am coming to the end of another semester as I work towards my diaconate. I thought I would share with you a brief update on my journey. On May 8th I will finish two and a half years of the four and a half year program. I have to say that I have learned so much about our faith. I cannot thank all of you enough for your prayers and support as I continue to discern this call.

The ironic thing of this spiritual journey is that the more I learn, the more questions I have about the call I feel. I was talking with a classmate about this the other night at class and he was feeling much the same way, but he provided me with an insight that helped me a great deal. He said, "When I am feeling low and considering stepping out of the program, I think of Jesus meeting me in Heaven. Jesus says to me, I called you, you heard, but why didn't you trust me? So I would ask that you continue to pray for me and Sarah as we continue on this path.

Yours in Christ,
Paul

THOUGHTS

For the Third Sunday of Easter

The disciples on the road to Emmaus walked and talked with Jesus all day long, but it was not until they offered the bread that they recognized Him. Simple acts of loving kindness still reveal the presence of God in our midst.
